

HoudahMessages

The object of the HoudahMessages framework is to present rich messages to the user. The HoudahMessages framework is powered by an instance of the rule engine. The use of rules with an LHS-qualifier specifying a language allows for easy localization of messages. The responsibility to publish the desired language to the rule context remains with the controller layer.

Continue reading...