

Deploying via Chef

Chef is a configuration management framework which allows for platform-independent recipes to be developed to dictate the packages, services, and settings to be installed in a server environment for various deployments.

A WebObjects Cookbook has been developed which eases the setup and deployment of a WebObjects application server via Chef.

See the source repository and the cookbook README for documentation.